Unleashing raw, unfiltered chaos since 2019. Tetra comfortably navigate the indie and punk rock realms but aren't afraid to dabble in heavier, experimental sounds.

While Tetra's music might not require a music theory degree, their genuine love for the craft echoes in every chord. At a live show, expect broken drumsticks and snapped strings — a Tetra signature. Earplugs are considered a survival necessity.

Beyond the sonic assault, Tetra surprises with tracks like "I'll Start a Fire" and "Pictures", offering a brief respite in the storm. Raw, unpredictable, and always true to their sonic roots.

After a series of well-received gigs from 2019-2022, Tetra dedicated the following year to crafting their debut EP, releasing their first single „Everblue“ on June 6th, 2024 with four more songs to follow.

2016

Tetra is formed by guitarists Dominik Züger & Jonas Frankenfeld and percussionist Joel Mathys with singer Tamino Schüpbach joining shortly after.

17/18

The initial years focus on finding a practice space. Bassist Florin Hugentobler joins, completing the lineup.

2019

Tetra marks a milestone with their bandroom-anniversary show, premiering their first five original songs.

21/22

Writing more original music and playing sporadic gigs.

2023

Recording the first 10 original songs, intended for release as singles, eventually forming two EPs of five songs each.

2024

Tetra's first single „Everblue“ is released on June 6th, marking a significant step in the band's musical journey. Completing the EP, four more songs will be released over the summer.
